L. W. SNELL. marchit—if

A correspondent, writing from near Huntsville, Alabama, desires to know what are the duties of the public officials of Tennessee, known as Floaters and Rangers. We answer-

The Constitution of Tennessee fixes the number of representatives in the lower branch of the Legislature at seventy-five. In the apportionment of the representation amongst the several counties, according to the voting population, some counties are given two representatives, others one, and counties whose population is below the ratio are formed into districts, each district having a joint representative. There is another class of representatives, who represent fractions. For instance, Davidson county has two representatives; her voting population being largely in excess of the ratio of representation; Robertson has one representative, with a similar excess; so with Mont gomery; Cheatham, a sparsely settled county, falls below the ratio, and is not alone entitled to a representative. Her voting population is, therefore, summed up with the excesses in the counties of Davidson, Robertson and Montgomery, and these are given a representative jointly. This class of representatives is, for convenience, denominated Floater; not in law, but by common usage. The term is a vulgar one, at best, and ought to be discarded It is a puzzler to those unfamiliar with our representation and usages. The Ranger is a county officer who has charge of the books for the registration or posting of horses, cattle, etc. which have strayed and been "taken up." He is a very useful officer; but why he is termed "Ranger" we can't say. He is rather the opposite of a ranger, a mere recorder of other men's

The New York Tribune says "the 85 00! flow of gold into the Treasury through the Custom-House evidently is not to be stopped by croaking, or dammed by warfare on the Government credit or the commerce of the country. The amount of revenue from customs in January was $5,460,576 50. This is the most unfavorable month in the year, for reasons connected with the weather and the course of trade. Yet, even at that rate of influx of gold, more than sufficient provision is made for the in terest on the gold-bearing bonds of the Gift 6-A fine large Jack, 15 hands 5 inch -United States."

The New York News draws a comparison between Washington and the rebel General Lee. 'Hyperian to a Satyr." Washington gave the weight terly inexcusable. The one was a patriot-the other is a traitor without excuse-a demon fit only for the confines

The Committee on Foreign Affairs in the rebel House of Representatives, on the 20th ult, reported some resolutions on the subject of Southern Independence. Mr. Gilmer, of North Carolina, offered an amendment providing for an 'American Diet." The subject of "diet" is uppermost at Richmond just now; and Mr. Gilmer evidently desires to make the most of it.

LENY .- The penitential season of Lent We are indebted to our young friend, Milton J. Rocens, for a copy of his ballad, "When in my Dreaming,"—set to music. The ballad is an excellent production, and the music appropriate. Mr. Rogers has served a three years' term in the Army, and is now employed.

Lawy.—The penitential season of Lent commenced yesterday. This fast was instituted by the Church to honor the fast of Jesus Christ, who, in the desert, fasted forty days and forty nights. The life of a Christian should be, as nearly as possible, in conformity with that of our Saviour, and the music appropriate. It is on the north side of the public square in the town of Gresnifeld, lil.
